Diversity and Social Inclusion (eDiSI)

"The place where people live affects their health and chances of leading flourishing lives. Communities and neighbourhoods that ensure access to basic goods, that are socially cohesive, that are designed to promote good physical and psychological wellbeing, and that are protective of the natural environment are essential for health equity." (Closing the gap in a generation, WHO headquarters, 2008).

Diversity and Social Inclusion is an online program of study aimed at enhancing awareness of different kinds of social inequalities rooted in many different ways of diversity in our contemporary societies.

It supports to develop core competences in health care professionals and social workers based on blended learning approach. This approach could improve the sensibility to differences in cultural, socio-economic and health status, and the unequal distribution of social resources.

A final assignment is required to be presented in the last day of the course, which also serves as the ground for assessment.

PROGRAMME

This online programme offers a unique opportunity for the students to meet with fellow students and teaching staff from different countries and professional backgrounds to listen to, discuss and debate issues around inclusion of the most vulnerable group of people in our societies.

The future professionals participate in bridging the social gaps during their everyday work, so the importance of socio-cultural sensitivity, intercultural skills must be highly emphasized in their training.

During this programme the students, as healthcare professionals, are challenged to think ahead and find opportunities to make a difference in the health situation and inclusion of clients. The students will attend online meetings (inspiration sessions, workshops, panel discussions and group work) and work on assignments/tasks. The central methodology for the final assignment will be through 'Storytelling' in which they will focus on one (vulnerable) group and incorporate the learnings within the theme: 'Diversity and Social Inclusion'.

KEYWORDS

Diversity, social inclusion, intercultural sensitivity, social isolation, migration, low social economic status (SES), disability

OUTCOMES

After completing the course:

The student defines the central concepts of social inclusion; diversity; structural and cultural competency; intersectionality; super-diversity.

The student is able to give examples of different kinds of social inequalities in key areas of social life: home life, work, school, healthcare, localities.

The student describes and is aware of the importance of structural and cultural sensitivity, intercultural communication and cooperation skills as core competences for future professionals.

The student is aware of the meaning of diversity and inclusion for at least one vulnerable group in the society.

The student can make a transfer from look, listen and think from the perspective from a vulnerable group / person, to daily practice as a professional.

INFORMATION ON THE COEHRE ACADEMY

The Coehre Academy is one of the activities within the Coehre consortium. The aim of the Academy is to enhance international, interdisciplinary, interprofessional cooperation and capacity building within health education among the members institutions.

The Academy acts as a platform that initiates, supports and coordinates different activities. It offers opportunities to create, stimulate, found and intensify networking of partner institutions and to develop joint initiatives.
